

International Facility Management Association

Empowering Facility Professionals Worldwide

Learn.
Connect.
Advance.™

International Facility Management Assoc.

Tony Keane, CAE, IFMA President & CEO

Copyright 2012

Global Vision; Global Support

IFMA supports 23,000+ members in 85 countries, 130 chapters and 17 councils.

IFMA's memorandums of understanding with associations, networks and government entities worldwide facilitate the exchange of information, the advancement of the FM profession and global collaboration on educational initiatives.

High Performance Buildings

- NEBB is focused on the delivery of high performance buildings
- IFMA is focused on managing high performance facilities
- The common factor is professional training

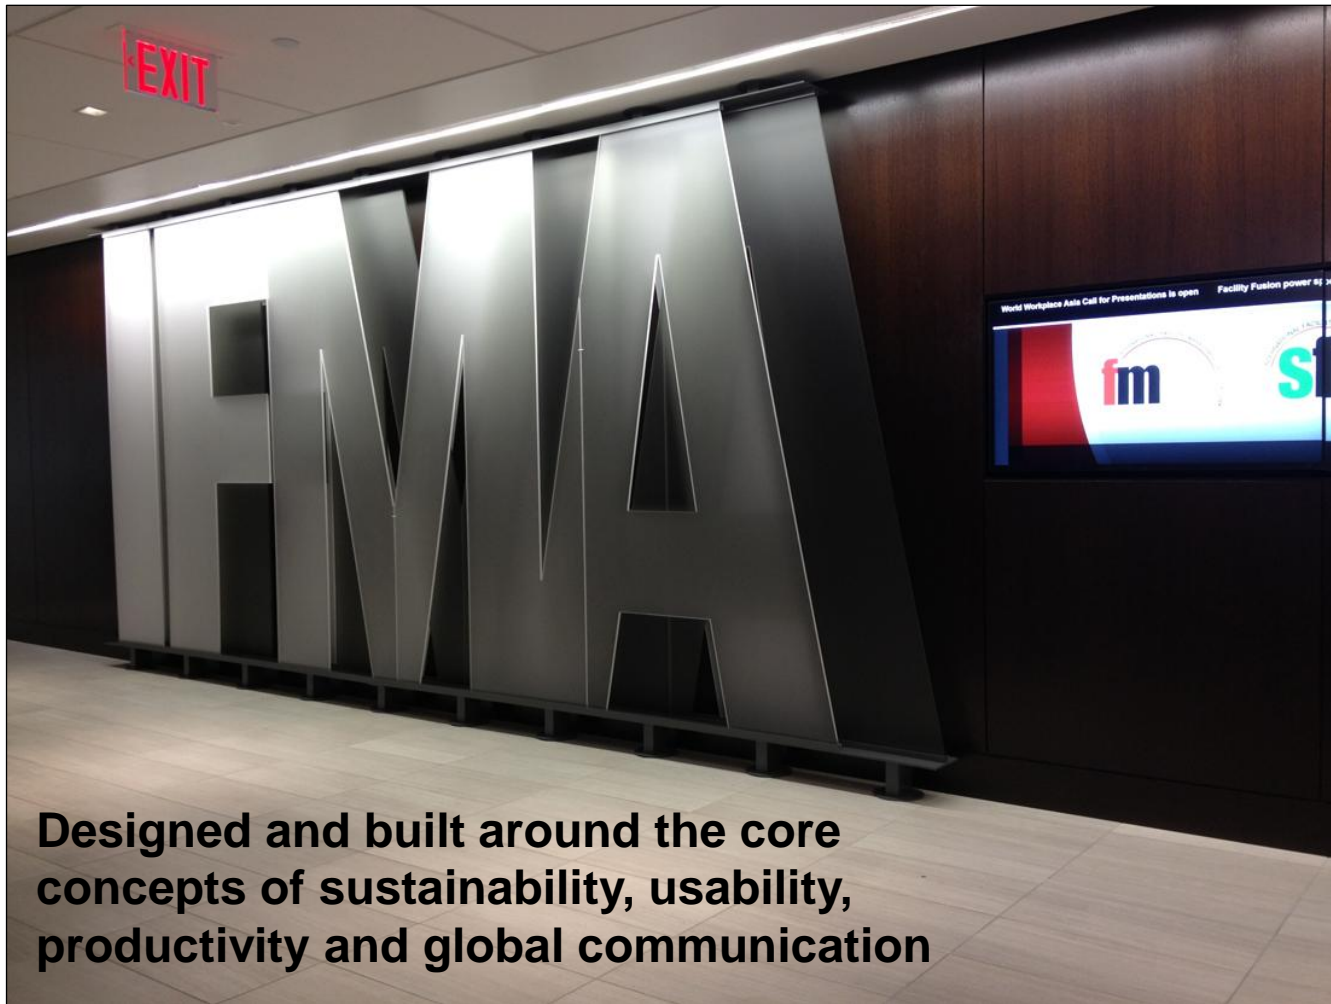

Sustainability

- Sustainability continues to grow in importance and prominence worldwide.
- Emphasis has moved from new construction to existing buildings
- Sustainability presents an opportunity for FM leadership roles

Service Center of Excellence

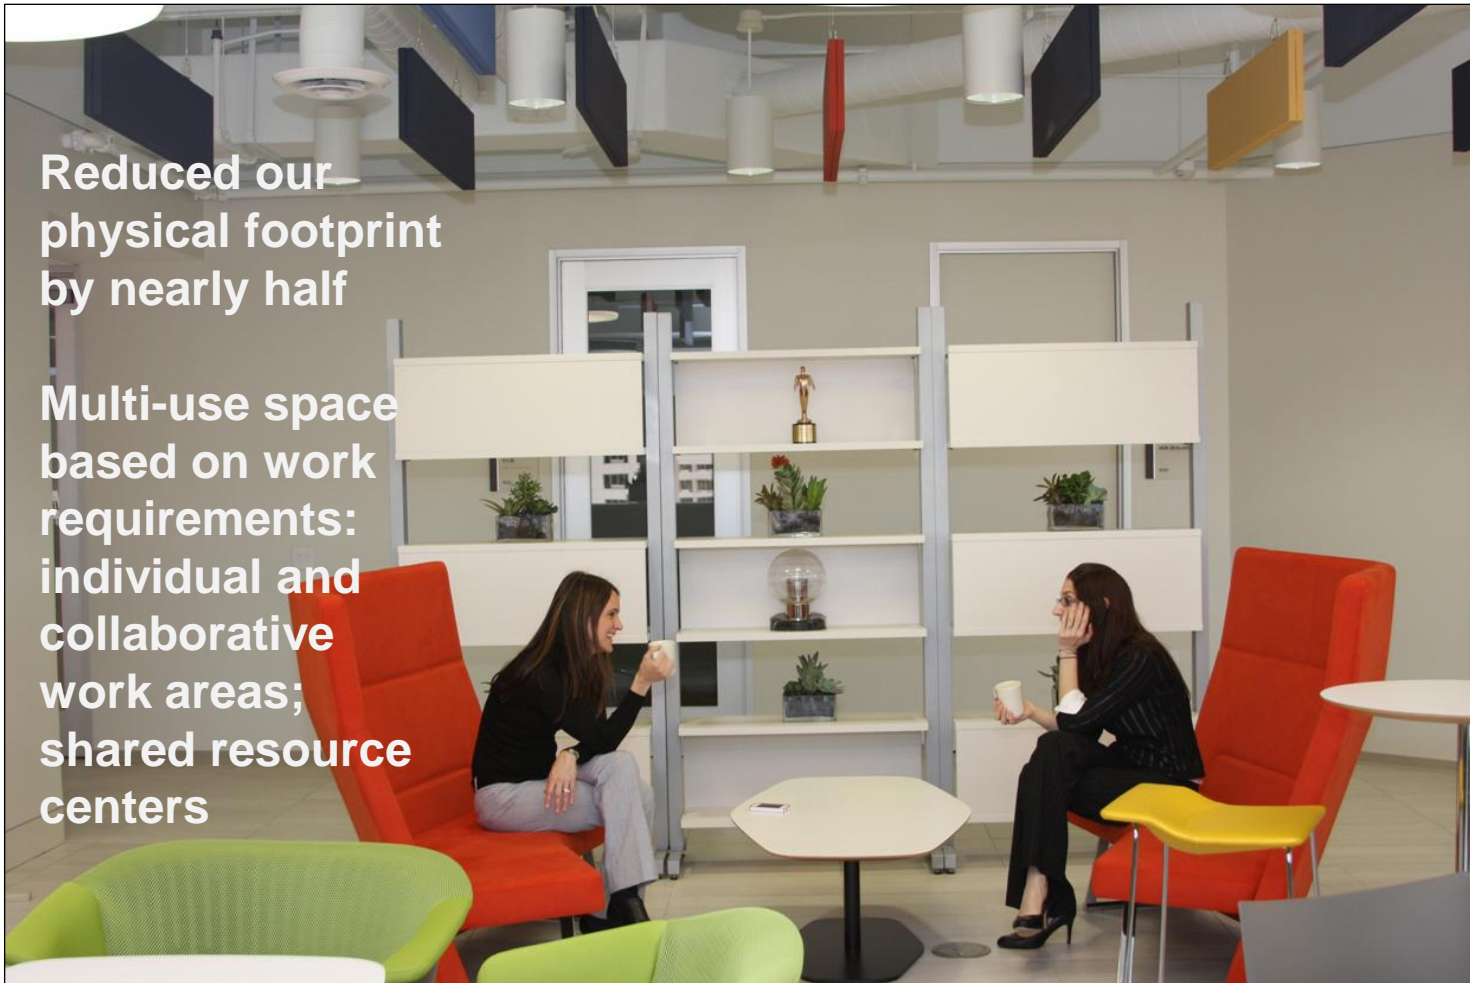

Designed and built around the core concepts of sustainability, usability, productivity and global communication

Workplace Flexibility

Reduced our physical footprint
by nearly half

Multi-use space
based on work requirements:
individual and collaborative work areas;
shared resource centers

Workforce Mobility

Internally:

Unassigned work stations

Enhanced technologies to support Web-based conferencing

Externally:

Empowered staff to work remotely

Flexibility & technical support to work at any time, in any place

IFMA Credentials Accreditation

In the same way IFMA credentials validate the competency of FM professionals, accreditation by organizations such as the American National Standards Institute can attest to the validity of IFMA's standards and processes.

- Essentials of FM Workshops:
 - The Introduction to Facility Management

 - The Essentials of Operations and Maintenance

 - The Essentials of Work Management

International Facility Management Association
Empowering Facility Professionals Worldwide
Learn. Connect. Advance.™

Thank you!

www.ifma.org